

Powerful Intelligence for Dealmakers...

Current Agreements

Current Agreements is an industry leader in providing access to comprehensive deal metrics and actual contract documents covering deals, alliances and M&A since 2000.

Current Agreements is a premium subscription database providing comprehensive business information and intelligence with access to thousands of contract documents, giving coverage of all deals and alliances across the life sciences sector.

Our database is comprised of thousands of individual deal, alliance and M&A records providing a detailed description and categorization of each deal component. Every deal record is supported by extensive source material such as press releases, SEC disclosures and contract documents, company presentations and other company sourced disclosures where available, ensuring the user can be confident the data presented can be verified if necessary.

Our extensive deal categorization process ensures every deal is fully integrated into the database alongside similar deals. Users can search with either simple keywords or advanced search and filter techniques.

Each deal record includes the following key information accessed via tabs:

- Summary overview: Includes key data such as deal title, date, parties to the deal
- Termsheet: Summary of key deal terms
- Detailed categorization: The deal by categories – from industry sector, stage of development, therapy area, deal type through to geographic location
- Deal financials: Detailed breakdown of payment terms
- Press release: Full text as published by company(s)
- Contract: Full text of contract document as filed with regulatory body

Each tab is completed to the fullest extent possible using publicly available sources. Sample records can be viewed online at www.currentagreements.com
